MDL No. 11md2286-MMA-MDD
Member No. 15cv1712-MMA-MDD

ORDER DENYING MOTION FOR REMAND

[Doc. No. 512]

18
19 Plaintiff Ashok Arora (“Plaintiff”) moves to remand his claims against Defendants 20 Midland Credit Management Inc. and Midland Funding LLC (“Defendants”) to the 21 jurisdiction in which Plaintiff initiated this action—the Northern District of Illinois. This 22 action is currently a member case, No. 15cv1712-MMA-MDD, in the multidistrict
23 litigation In Re: Midland Credit Management, Inc. Telephone Consumer Protection Act
24 Litigation, No. 11md2286-MMA-MDD (“Midland MDL”). For the reasons discussed
25 below, the Court DENIES Plaintiff’s motion to remand.

26 BACKGROUND

27 On July 10, 2015, Plaintiff commenced this action in the Northern District of 28 Illinois. On August 3, 2015, after the Panel concluded that Plaintiff’s claims concern

1 “questions of fact that are common to the actions previously transferred to” the MDL, the 2 Panel transferred the action to this Court as a tag-along action in the Midland MDL. See
3 Midland MDL, Doc. No. 245.

4 On December 2, 2016, the Court granted final approval of a class settlement
5 (“Class Settlement”) in the MDL. See Doc. No. 434. The Class Settlement resolved
6 claims by class members against Defendant for calls made during the period of 7 November 2, 2006 to August 31, 2014. Specifically, the Class Settlement released all 8 claims:

9 relating to the making, placing, dialing or initiating of calls
10 using an automatic telephone dialing system or artificial or 11 prerecorded voice, any and all claims for violation of the 12 Telephone Consumer Protection Act, 47 U.S.C. § 227 and the 13 regulations promulgated thereunder or related thereto, and any 14 and all claims for violation of any laws of any state that 15 regulate, govern, prohibit or restrict the making, placing, dialing or initiating of calls using an automatic telephone dialing system, an artificial or prerecorded voice, or any automated process or technology . . . .

16 Midland MDL, Doc. No. 281-3. Class members had the right to opt out of the Class
17 Settlement or object to its terms. See Midland MDL, Doc. No. 281-3. Plaintiff opted out
18 of the Class Settlement. See Doc. Nos. 419, 512. Now, Plaintiff requests the Court 19 remand this action to the Northern District of Illinois. See Doc. No. 512. Plaintiff seeks 20 remand “so he may amend his complaint and continue his individual action.” See Doc.
21 No. 512. Upon remand, Plaintiff indicates that he would request leave to amend his 22 complaint in order to add claims for violations of the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act
23 (“FDCPA”), civil rights violations, and claims for conspiracy and hate crimes. See Doc.
24 No. 512.

25 LEGAL STANDARD

26 Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1407, the Panel is authorized to “separate any claim, 27 cross-claim, counter-claim, or third-party claim and remand any of such claims before the 28 remainder of the action is remanded.” 38 U.S.C. § 1407(a). It is further authorized to

1 “prescribe rules for the conduct of its business,” provided such rules are “not inconsistent
2 with [statute] and the Federal Rules of Civil procedure.” Id. § 1407(f). Those rules 3 provide that “the [Panel] may remand an action or any . . . claim within it, upon . . . the 4 transferee court’s suggestion of remand.” J.P.M.L.R. 10.1(b). “In considering the 5 question of remand the [Panel] has consistently given great weight to the transferee 6 [court]’s determination that remand of a particular action at a particular time is 7 appropriate . . . .” In re Holiday Magic Sec. & Antitrust Litig., 433 F. Supp. 1125, 1126
8 (J.P.M.L. 1977). When suggesting remand, transferee courts apply the same guidelines
9 the Panel itself would apply when deciding whether to order remand. In re
10 Bridgestone/Firestone, Inc., ATX, ATX II & Wilderness Tires Prods. Liab. Litig., 128 F.
11 Supp. 2d 1196, 1197 (S.D. Ind. 2001).

12 DISCUSSION

13 Plaintiff requests the Court remand this action to the District Court for the 14 Northern District of Illinois. Defendants oppose remand arguing that Plaintiff’s claims 15 share a common factual core with TCPA claims pending in the other member cases of the 16 MDL, requiring that it remain in the MDL for consolidated or coordinated pre-trial
17 proceedings. See Doc. No. 520. According to Defendants, discovery regarding common 18 issues, such as whether Midland’s dialing technology qualifies as an ATDS under the 19 TCPA, is “far from complete.” See Doc. No. 520 at 4. Plaintiff argues that while his 20 TCPA claim shares a common issue with other member cases of the MDL, discovery 21 related to the specific claims he looks to add in an amended complaint is likely to be 22 more extensive than the discovery related to the TCPA claims. See Doc. No. 512 at 7.
23 However, the Court declines to suggest that the Panel remand this action to the Northern 24 District of Illinois as Plaintiff’s TCPA claim must be litigated here.

25 “Remand is inappropriate . . . when continued consolidation will ‘eliminate 26 duplicative discovery, prevent inconsistent pretrial rulings, and conserve the resources of 27 the parties, their counsel and the judiciary.’” In re Silica Prods. Liab. Litig., 398 F. Supp.
28 2d 563, 688 (S.D. Tex. 2005) (citing In re Heritage Bonds Litig., 217 F. Supp. 2d 1369,

1 1370 (J.P.M.L. 2002) (internal citation omitted)). Plaintiff's TCPA claims were not 2 resolved by the Class Settlement because Plaintiff chose to opt out of the Settlement, and 3 discovery regarding Defendants' dialing technology is incomplete. Suggesting remand 4 would thus conflict with the Panel's initial determination that the MDL be created in 5 order to "eliminate duplicate discovery and prevent inconsistent pretrial rulings." See In 6 re: Midland Credit Mgmt., Inc., Tel. Consumer Prot. Act Litig., 818 F. Supp. 2d 1377–78
7 (J.P.M.L. 2011). On substantially similar facts, the Court has previously denied motions
8 for suggestion of remand in thirty-one other member actions in which the movants opted 9 out of the Class Settlement. See Doc. No. 443.

10 Further, "only upon a showing of good cause" will the Panel "remand an action or 11 actions prior to the completion of coordinated or consolidated pretrial proceedings." See 12 In re S. Cent. States Bakery Prod. Antitrust Litig., 462 F. Supp. 388, 390 (J.P.M.L. 1978).
13 Plaintiff would benefit from further coordinated proceedings and discovery in light of his 14 pending TCPA claims. Plaintiff agrees that his claim shares a common issue of fact with 15 the other members of the MDL as to "whether the dialer used by [Defendants] to place 16 calls to [P]laintiff's cell phone is an auto-dialer under [the] TCPA." See Doc. No. 512 at 17 7. Instead, Plaintiff argues that, upon remand, the "overhead" of discovery regarding 18 whether Defendants used an automatic telephone dialing system ("ATDS") would be 19 minimal since the same material would be produced through personal discovery in the 20 claim's originating jurisdiction as would be produced here. See id. While the Court is 21 sympathetic to Plaintiff's plight, the main focus of the consolidated pre-trial discovery in 22 this MDL is that very issue. In other words, the MDL was specifically created to prevent 23 duplicative discovery in different jurisdictions regarding whether Defendants used an 24 ATDS.

25 The Court is also sympathetic to Plaintiff's argument that he would like his case to 26 be remanded to its original jurisdiction so that he may amend his complaint to add new 27 parties and causes of action. However, even had Plaintiff originally included those 28 parties and allegations, or were to make those amendments now, Plaintiff's TCPA claims

1 remain, and those claims would benefit from coordinated pretrial proceedings in this 2 MDL action. Further, the Panel has noted that the existence of other claims in member
3 actions does not undermine or obviate the efficiency of consolidated litigation in MDL
4 actions. See Doc. No. 177 (noting that member cases in the MDL already include many 5 actions alleging claims other than violations of the TCPA) (stating that transferring a case
6 to the MDL “does not require complete identity or even a majority of common factual 7 and legal issues”). Accordingly, the Panel would be highly unlikely to find good cause to 8 accept the undersigned’s recommendation that it remand this action, were the 9 undersigned so inclined to make such a recommendation.

10 CONCLUSION

11 For the foregoing reasons, the Court DENIES Plaintiff’s motion and DECLINES
12 to suggest remand of this action to the District Court for the Northern District of Illinois.
13 See Doc. No. 512.

14 The Clerk of Court is instructed to file this Order on the docket of MDL No. 2286
15 as well as on the docket of member case number 15cv1712-MMA-MDD.
